ASSOCIATION INFORMATION

When organisations affiliate themselves with other like-minded groups, definite advantages present themselves. A communication link is formed through the exchange of journals and meetings. Issues effecting outdoor Australia, whether sport or conservation related, concern and affect us all. The Australian Speleological Federation Inc. (ASF) invites you to apply for Association with us.

Who may apply?

Organisations that don't have Speleology as their primary focus, but do have aims and objectives similar to those of the ASF.

How much does it cost?

$40 annually

Why Associate with the ASF?

The Australian Speleological Federation Inc. is registered as an environmental organisation in Australia, we have a nationwide membership base including 28 locally based clubs and 2 State Councils. We publish 2 magazines, the 'Caves Australia' and the more scientifically based 'Helictite' magazine. As an Associate, your organisation will receive the Caves Australia magazine quarterly. 'Helictite' subscriptions are organised separately for those who are interested.

Associates are also welcome to be represented at Council meetings, but are not entitled to vote. It should also be noted that Associates are not considered "Members" of the Federation and are not covered under the ASF Insurance Scheme that is provided for its Members.
